COPS STOP CAMERA IN FIRST CHAPTER

Bold and Bloody Serial Just Beginning.

Police Saturday night stopped the camera following the first reel of what promised to be a full six-reel crime feature of real life. John Lester, 19, 312 Walnut street; Bob Kelly, 20, Houston, Tex., and Gus Gunn, 25, claiming Broken Bow, Okla., as his home, starred them-

After Lester and Kelly, who open-ed the dramatic action alone, had committed three admitted holdups their trail crossed that of Gunn, and their breath Gunn told how he plan-ned to steal an automobile.

The trio were to rob a Chinese laundry at Mulberry street and Linden avenue, and then strike at once for Harvard, Ark., where the climax was to be staged.

Police entered the field at 7:30 o'clock Saturday night when a call from an unknown man summor the "wagon" to 376 South Main street, where "three suspicious char-acters" were seen loftering.

Emergency Patrolmen Vannucci and Henderson arrested the trio for vagrancy. Kelly, who admits he was the "brains" of the three, had was the "brains" of the three, had a pistol.

They admitted, also, they were "bad men." Inspector Griffin began questioning them and they "broke down" shortly with the full story of their exploits here. They admitted holding up two negroes Friday night and getting $7. They took $6, they said, from a white man on Beale avenue. This they returned when the man told them a hard luck story. Two white men next fell victims. I'wo white men next fell victims. sums of $5 and $7 were taken from

Then Gunn met up with the pair, and he planned the auto robbery and the trip to Harvard. Gunn is said worked as a cook in a raiload eating house there. Inspector Griffin is attempting to ascertain whether the men have com-mitted other holdups or robberies

Rev. H. O. Hofstead Honored By Church

Special services at the Court Avenue Presbyterian church. Sunday, in honor of the pastor, Rev. H. O. Hofstead, marked the completion of six years of his ministry there. A best musical talent of the city participated, featured the evening service. Dr. Hofstead was at his best Sunday morning, when he delivered a powerful sermon on "The Powers, Perils and Possibilities of Youth." There was a big attendance at each meeting and Dr. Hofstead was delmeeting and Dr. Hofstead was del-uged with congratulations from the members of Court Avenue church and from a host of friends throughout the city.

M. E. Odel and H. D. Odel, brothers, 677 Pennsylvania street, are held at police headquarters on charges of violation of the liquor law. Police say they found five gallons of raisin Police brandy in their car.

the morning service and an address was made by Rev. C. H. Perkins, of the North Mississippi conference. The pastor, Rev. W. F. Acuff, preached the evening sermon.

AMUSEMENTS

State.

The new bill at Loew's State is one which takes rank with the beat assembled at this playhouse since its opening in October. "Welcome Home" is a comedy playlet which is billed headline and deserves the billing. Lizzie Raymond and two Browns take the leads. The plot, such as it is, deals with a soldier-hunting chap who has just arrived from overseas.

Jack Murphy, small-sized funster, and Josephine Lackmar have a bit entitled "The laugh Trust" The former is an able foll for some of his fair part-ther's quips. They get across well.

Kitty Reese and Paul Edwards have a dainty refined dance diversion. Quite a graceful pair. Two giris, announced as "Black and White." are athletic young women whose turn adds to the variety of the bill. While he is no Dobson. Otis Mitchell strums a wicked banjo.

Conway Tearle has the lead in "Marooned Hearts," a study which com-bines love and duty and shows that when the two meet it's best to follow duty, for love will accompany.

Alexander.

Alexander.

Alexander, "The Man Who Knows," accompanied by his retinue of assistants et al., will open a week's engagement at the Lyric theater tonight, and promises during his stay to provide the real thrill that the charm of mystery brings to young and old alike. Alexander gracefully wears the cloak of "peer of all psychics" and past performances would seem to prove conclusively that he truly is a mental marvel when it comes to fathoming the mind of his auditors.

The program is in three parts, the Simia seance, or crystal gazing, during which he answers any questions, being the third or closing. The second is devoted to Oriental dancing by Liflian Marion and the Nartell twins and the opening portion to magic, in which Orpheum.

A bill boasting of four headline fea-tures will be the offering of the Or-pheum this week. The top-notch po-sitions are shared by Georgia Campbell, Nellie V. Nichols, Solly Ward and Joe Georgia Campbell will be remembered Georgia Campbell will be remembered here as one of the young ladies of the Misses Campbell, whose yearly visit has always been looked forward to with more than passing interest as the young ladies could always be relied upon to have something new. This year Miss Campbell is appearing in a new ketch. "Gone Are the Days." in the costume of the period of the '60s and with a special set, she, with the assistance of three young men, offer a group.

with a special set, she, with the assistance of three young men, offer a group of special songs, some new and others favorites of that time.

Nellie V. Nichols is a character actress of exceptionally fine qualities.

Solly Ward, who has often been compared with Sam Bernard as to dialect and the misusage of the English language, with Marion Murray, is offering a satirical comedy in one act called "Babies."

Joe Cook is known as "the one-man vaudeville show."

Joe Cook is known as "the one-man vaudeville show."
Hildegarde Lachmann, with her pal, Florence Ellsworth, are two clever juveniles who offer comedy, singing and dancing. Alexander brothers and Evelyn are the world's greatest ball bouncers. Rose, Ellis and Rose, "Nifty Entertainers," will offer a routine most startling and daring.

Mrs. Stainback Dies At Ripe Old Age

Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Stainback. aged 91, died suddenly Sunday morning at the home of her daughter. Mrs. Julia M. Pickett, 1892 Madison avenue. She apparently had been in the best of health Saturday night upon retiring, laughing and joking with her daughter. She was found dead in her bed Sunday morning. Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the residence, Rev. A. C. Bell of-ficiating. Burial was in Elmwood cemetery. Mrs. Stainback had alcemetery. Mrs. Stainback had al-ways expressed a desire to die on Sunday, saying that she wished to be buried on the same day. This wish was followed, Mrs. Stainbeck had lived in Mem-while the "audience," consisting of phis for more than 70 years, coming Detective Inspector Will Griffin and others of the detective bureau held in 1850. Three years later she married the late Francis E. Stainback of this city. She is survived by her daughter, Mrs. Pickett, and a nephew.

Display Of Plans Of Homes Popular

Simultaneously with the resumption of home building in Memphis, the American Federation of Arts, with headquarters in New York city, has placed in the Brooks Memorial Art museum here, one of its circulating collections of plans and ex-teriors of homes of period architec-ture, which will be on display throughout the month of December The display of the collection is a part of a national movement to have incorporated into coming homes, an idea of artistic architecture, and the idea of artistic architecture, and the subjects displayed, cover plans of sufficient variety to satisfy the most discriminating home builder.

The plans are designed for small, medium-priced homes. There are 50 of the collections being circulated throughout the country, in an effore to carry out the federation's plans to bring art into the smaller communities where art museums are mmunities where art museums are communities where art museums are an impossibility, and where bigger collections are inaccessible.

True to the popular demand, the majority of the plans are for homes of colonial architecture, although there are on display those of architecture of the Elizabethian, Mission, Israel Putman and English Gothic styles as well tyles as well.
